Some third party providers are outside the UK (e.g., our policy administration software vendor is based in Israel and personal data could be sent to Israel for software management and debugging purposes). Also, we may transfer your data outside the UK if you are or have gone outside the UK.

The European Commission has decided that Israel ensures an adequate level of data protection compared with the EU – this is called an adequacy decision. Before 31 December 2020, the UK applied for an adequacy decision from the European Commission and the European Commission's data protection adequacy decisions are available on https://ec.europa.eu/info/law/law-topic/data-protection/international-dimension-data-protection/adequacy-decisions_en.

Where there is no adequacy decision, we shall transfer your data outside the EEA provided there are appropriate safeguards such as:

- approved codes of conduct/certification.

We shall take all reasonably necessary steps with third party providers to make sure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with an equivalent standard as within the EEA.

Medical information

Please read this section carefully, as it sets out your rights under the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988 and the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (Northern Ireland) Order 1991.

In order to process your application, we may need to ask for a medical report from any doctor you have consulted. You have three choices:

- you can give your permission without asking to see the doctor's report before it is sent to us. The report will then be sent directly to us by the doctor
If you give us permission to getting a report without asking to see it then you can change your mind by contacting the doctor before the report is sent to us in which case you will have the opportunity to see the report and ask the doctor to change the report or add your comments before it is sent to us. Alternatively, you can withhold your consent to its release
- you can give your consent, but ask to see any report before it is sent to us. You have 21 days to contact the doctor to make arrangements to see the report from the time we tell you that we have requested a report from the doctor. If you do not contact the doctor within 21 days, they will be entitled to send the report directly to us. If you contact the doctor asking to see the report, you must give them your permission before they can release it to us. You may ask the doctor to change the report if you think it is incorrect or misleading. Any request to your doctor to change the report, must be in writing. If the doctor refuses, you can insist on adding your own comments to the report before it is sent to us. This will not prevent you from applying to other companies for insurance
- you can withhold your permission but, if you do, we may not be able to accept your application.

Whether or not you wish to see the report before it is sent, you have the right to ask the doctor to let you see a copy, provided you ask them within six months of the report being sent to us. If you ask for a copy the doctor can charge you a reasonable fee to cover the costs of supplying it.

The doctor is entitled to withhold some or all of the report if:

- they feel that it may be harmful to you
- it would indicate their intentions towards you
- would reveal the identity of another person without their consent (other than that provided by a health professional in their professional capacity in relation to your care).

The medical report your doctor fills in asks about medical and lifestyle information including the following:

- your current health
- any care, medication or treatment you are currently receiving
- the results of referrals or tests you are waiting for
- any time off work in the last three years
- your past health
- details of any relevant illness, trauma, or referrals for specialist advice or treatment, hospital admissions, consultations with your GP or any other medical adviser, therapist or counsellor, in particular whether you have a history of
 - malignancy (cancer), cardiovascular (heart) disease, diabetes, and degenerative (gradually worsening) diseases
 - musculoskeletal disease or injury, for example, arthritis, rheumatism, back problems or any other disorder of the joints or muscles

- anxiety, depression, neurosis (such as phobias, obsessions and so on), psychosis (a mental disorder where you lose contact with reality), stress or fatigue
- suicidal thoughts or attempts at suicide
- conditions related to drug or alcohol misuse or smoking or chewing tobacco
- details of any biopsies, blood tests, electrocardiograms (heart test), height, weight if measured in the last two years, urinalyses (tests on urine), X-rays, or other investigations
- any blood pressure readings in the last three years
- any history of disease among your parents or brothers or sisters that you have told your doctor about

We have asked your doctor not to reveal information about:

- negative tests for HIV, hepatitis B or C
- any sexually-transmitted diseases, unless there could be long term effects on your health
- predictive genetic test results, unless there is a favourable test result which shows that you have not inherited a condition your family suffers from

The information you and your doctor provide about your health may result in us:

- refusing to provide cover
- offering you cover subject to special conditions, including charging premiums above our standard rates
- setting premiums at standard rates

Genetic testing

In accordance with the Association of British Insurers' policy on genetics and insurance, you do not need to tell us about any genetic test result you have had if this application for insurance, taken together with any other insurance policies you already have, totals up to £500,000 for life cover, £300,000 for critical illness cover or £30,000 a year for income protection.

Above £500,000 for life cover, £300,000 for critical illness and £30,000 a year for income protection, you may need to tell us about certain genetic test results when applying for certain types of insurance. We will only be interested in genetic test results where the Government's Genetics and Insurance Committee has approved them for insurers to use with the type of insurance you are applying for.

The following test results have been approved by the Government's Genetics and Insurance Committee:

Test	Type of Insurance
Huntington's disease	Life insurance

If you think this may apply to you, please ask us for details of the current position. However, you must tell us if you either have a family history of, are experiencing symptoms of, or are having treatment for, a medical condition including any genetically inherited condition.
